Conviction of a crime is not necessarily a prohibition against taking the California Bar Examination or entering law school. It is required that we know the circumstances so we can counsel an applicant on what must be done to overcome the issue. We need to know, even if the conviction has been expunged. Do not give any details on the form.

"Study at, or graduation from, this law school may not qualify a student to take the bar examination in other states or satisfy the requirements to practice law in other states. Therefore, if a student intends to seek admission to practice law in a state other than California, the student should contact the admitting authority in that state for information regarding the legal education requirements for admission to practice law."

Students seeking admission to Humphreys College Laurence Drivon School of Law are required to agree that in consideration of being accepted as law students at this school they will not take the State Bar Examination until they have satisfactorily completed the full law curriculum of not less than 114 quarter units. This requirement is for the joint benefit of the student and the College. Transfer credits from law schools recognized by The School of Law may be counted toward said 114 quarter units completion requirement. Satisfactory completion of courses means a cumulative grade point average of at least 70 (C) for all courses attempted.

If I am accepted as a law student at Humphreys College Laurence Drivon School of Law, I agree in consideration of said acceptance to complete satisfactorily the full law course of not less than 114 quarter units before I take the State Bar Examination. Furthermore, I hereby certify that the information I submit in this application is correct and complete, and that if I am accepted as a student, I agree to conform to all the rules and regulations of Humphreys College Laurence Drivon School of Law.
